

We're Hiring!

Marketing and Sales Manager

Dawkins & Georges Ltd are looking for a talented person with creative energy and drive to market our brand and increase sales at our award-winning brewery in Bristol.

You will lead our small team towards the marketing and sales vision, liaising with the Head Brewer and Directors to help meet our overall goals. You will be our brand ambassador with plenty of ideas.

Experience

- You must have proven experience in a marketing and sales role, preferably with experience of the drinks sector. You must enjoy working in social media and web marketing and be creative in your approach to engaging with our customers and our fans.
- We would consider marketing experience in another business if you have played a critical role in its growth and success by increasing awareness of the brand.
- Experience as a manager even of a small team is important to us. You will be a team player who can inspire our talented team to work towards the marketing and sales vision.
- Experience selling alcoholic beverages to pubs and shops is not a must, but would be of interest to us.

This will initially start as a role working 3 days a week, hopefully extending to 5 days as the company grows due to your success in marketing the brand.

Salary dependent on experience.

Please contact Team@dawkinsales.com with a cv and covering letter to explain why you would like to work for Dawkins. Visit our website to find out more about us.

www.dawkinsales.com